This Is La Salle

La Salle University

La Salle University is a liberal arts institution which combines the best of all educational worlds. With over 5,800 men and women attending classes, the University offers a pleasant environment within close proximity to Philadelphia's cultural, social and historic centers. Founded by the Brothers of Christian Schools, La Salle is named for St. John Baptiste de la Salle, founder of the Christian Brothers. The institution, which began as a one-building academy in center city Philadelphia, is on an 82.2-acre, 43-building campus in Philadelphia's Germantown section.

Students can be assured of as much personal guidance as needed from faculty members, with a student faculty ratio of 15-1 and an average class size of 21 students. This commitment to the individual has always been a major tenet of the Christian Brothers' goal.

A limited number of requirements in English composition, literature, philosophy and religion provide greater opportunity for depth outside the student's major field. The number of courses required by a department of its major never exceeds 17, leaving 8-10 courses as free electives that may be used to build a strong minor or to diversify one's background.

Various independent study programs provide the students with even greater options. A thriving nationally-recognized Honors Program is available for gifted students. "La Salle in Europe" offers students the opportunity to spend their sophomore or junior year at the University of Fribourg, in Switzerland, while receiving full academic credit at La Salle. Programs are also available for a semester or a year of study in Spain.

Among the major buildings on campus are: the Connelly Library; the Roland Holroyd Science Center with facilities for study and research in Biology, Geology, Physics, and Psychology; the Olney Hall classroom building, and the College Union which houses offices for most student activities and clubs. The Union building is also the main meeting place on campus.

The athletic department is located in Hayman Hall. The facility includes the 1,700-seat Joseph Kirk Natatorium, three regulation-sized basketball courts, a 12 laps/mile suspended running track, weight training and exercise areas, a sauna, squash courts and a medical/training area.

La Salle students come from 700 public and private schools in 30 states and 20 countries. The dormitories house more than 1,700 resident students in 11 residence halls and three apartment complexes. More than 75% of the student body plan to go onto graduate or professional work in their fields, with more than 1,200 degrees conferred annually.

La Salle undergraduates have been awarded 47 Fulbright grants since 1970, one of the highest number presented to an institution in the Mid-Atlantic Region. According to a recent survey, La Salle ranked in the top 4% nationally among private undergraduate institutions originating Ph.D.s (33rd out of 877 colleges and universities).

JOSEPH F. BURKE, F.S.C., Ph.D.

President, La Salle University

Joseph F. Burke, F.S.C., Ph.D., became La Salle University's 27th president on July 1, 1992. He had served as provost of the university since 1990.

Born in Philadelphia in 1945, Brother Burke is the first La Salle alumnus to head the 131-year-old university. He has been a member of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, the lay teaching order that conducts the university, since 1963.

Brother Burke, who holds the academic rank of professor of psychology, originally served at La Salle from 1973 to 1986 as a faculty member, chairman of the Psychology Department, and president of the Faculty Senate for two terms. During that time, he also initiated the university's graduate program in Human Services Psychology and was named a recipient of the Christian and Mary Lindback Foundation Award for Distinguished Teaching.

After serving as an American Council of Education Fellow at the University of Hartford for the 1986-87 academic year, Brother Burke was appointed dean of the College of Basic Studies and special assistant to the president of the University of Hartford. He returned to La Salle as provost and vice president of the corporation in July, 1990.

A 1963 graduate of Philadelphia's La Salle College High School, Brother Burke earned his bachelor's degree in English in 1968 from La Salle University and a master's degree in educational administration from the University of Miami. He earned a Ph.D. in psychology and anthropology from the United States International University.

A clinical psychologist licensed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Brother Burke has had considerable professional experience counseling adults and adolescents, especially college students and juvenile delinquents. He served as a part-time clinical psychologist at St. Gabriel's Hall, the Christian Brothers' facility for incarcerated juveniles, from 1975-77.

Brother Burke has authored numerous articles and book chapters as well as the book Contemporary Approaches to Psychology and Counseling: The Self-Regulation and Maturity Model, a comprehensive graduate-level textbook on psychotherapy, published by Brooks/Cole in 1989.

He is a member of the American Council on Education's Council of Fellows and Commission on Leadership Development, the American Association for Higher Education, the Association for General and Liberal Studies, the American Psychological Association, and the Eastern Psychological Association.

He serves on the Board of Directors of the Greater Philadelphia Urban Affairs Coalition, the YMCA of Greater Philadelphia, the Say Yes to Education Foundation, the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, the Balch Institute on Ethnic Studies, and the Campus Boulevard Corporation. He is also on the Board of Trustees of the Phi Kappa Theta Foundation, the Nominating Panel of the Board of Trustees of the Community College of Philadelphia, and the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of La Salle University.

In addition, Brother Burke serves on the Institutional Affairs Committee of the Commission for Independent Colleges and Universities, and the Ethics Committee of Germantown Hospital.

Robert Mullen

Director of Athletics

Under Robert Mullen, Director of Athletics, La Salle University has achieved national recognition. The men's basketball program made six consecutive post-season tournament appearances (1987-1992) and the women's team earned berths in the 1987-88 and 1988-89 NCAA Tournament, and the 1992 Women's National Invitational Tournament. La Salle has also made many improvements in its facilities and within the athletic structure, with Mullen acting as the catalyst for these changes.

Mullen had served as President of the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) and Chairman of the Philadelphia Big 5. Prior to joining the La Salle staff, he was Director of Athletics at the University of Southern Colorado and Loras College. Mullen has been the President of the NAIA Athletic Directors Association and was the College Representative to the Executive Council of the National Association of College Athletic Directors (NACDA). He played several sports in high school and college, although basketball was his main interest. Bob graduated with both a B.S., Ed., and M.S., Ed., from Northern Illinois University. He has been a head coach in almost every sport at the secondary level and an Athletic Director and head college basketball coach for half of the last three decades. Mullen had over 300 victories in just 16 seasons, including several trips to the NAIA National Tournament.

On the family side, Mullen and his wife, Marcia, have four children. Sherry is a respiratory therapist who is married with three children. She lives in Hampshire, IL. Rob, played football at Ursinus College, where he is currently a member of the coaching staff.

Academic Support Services

PHILOSOPHY

Student-athletes involved in an intercollegiate athletic program are in a very unique position. They are here in the role of both student and athlete and it is essential that they meet the demands of each role in order to experience success at La Salle. The Program of Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes was designed to assist student-athletes in their adjustment to their unique role. Through academic advising and essential support services, the active involvement of the student-athlete in the educational process is encouraged and the balance between academic and athletic achievement is fostered.

OBJECTIVES

- To assist the student-athlete in balancing academic demands so that their work toward an academic degree is completed.
- To provide a growth environment so the student-athlete can gain independence and achievement in all facets of life.
- To enhance the student-athlete's years at La Salle through the utilization of campus resources and enrichment programs.
- To assist freshmen and transfer students in their first semester in the adjustment to the demands of college through the orientation program.
- To encourage excellence in academics and athletics so that the individual's experience at La Salle is a rich and rewarding one.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The course selection sheet of each student-athlete is reviewed prior to fall, spring and summer registration to ensure that all requirements are being met to continue satisfactory progress toward a degree and to maintain athletic eligibility.

Chrissie Donahue and Tina "4.0" Wahl discuss course selection.

MONITORING OF CLASSROOM PROGRESS

In order to stay abreast of the academic status of our student-athletes, progress reports monitoring attendance, completion of assignments and test scores are requested of faculty members during the semester. These reports also indicate if the student might benefit from additional help in a specified skill area. Freshmen and other selected student-athletes also meet weekly with the academic support services staff to complete self-assessment reports detailing attendance, completion of assignments, class participation and any test or project scores received.

Academic Support Services

TUTORING

If it is determined that any student-athlete could benefit from additional assistance to meet the demands of their courses, special tutoring is arranged. Our student-athletes have also made extensive use of the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center, the Math Lab and the Computer Science labs, where individualized assistance is provided in particular skill areas.

STUDY HALL

Study hall is an academic practice designed to provide structured time for the student-athlete to complete the demands of class work. A study hall is open throughout the day for the use of the student-athlete. In addition, a supervised study hall is held each evening, Monday through Thursday. Student-athletes are assigned to this evening study hall at the discretion of their coaches in order to assist them in developing the skills needed to manage their time efficiently and effectively.

COUNSELING

Academic, career, and personal counseling is available through the Office of Academic Support Services as well as the La Salle University Counseling Center and the Career Planning and Placement Bureau. The Counseling Center also assists the Office of Academic Support Services with identifying particular learning needs of any student-athlete and recommending specific courses of action which can be implemented to help ensure the academic success of the student.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Throughout the course of the year, special programs designed to respond to the specific needs of the student-athlete are arranged. These programs cover a diverse array of topics to stimulate and encourage the development of the student-athlete as a whole person. In addition, special Study Skills workshops are offered in conjunction with the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center of La Salle University. An orientation program including such relevant topics as time management, anxiety, interpersonal skill development and university etiquette is provided throughout the semester.

Coaches Profiles

Head Coach John Miller

John Miller looks to continue the winning tradition that is so familiar to La Salle basketball teams and this season will prove to be no different. Since coming to the helm in 1986, Miller has compiled an overall collegiate coaching record of 165-69, which ranks him as the winningest coach in Explorer history. During the 1990-91 season, Miller recorded his 100th victory and became the first women's coach ever to amass 100 wins. Miller's 100th victory was also a significant milestone for the university because it was the 300th victory for La Salle women's basketball. Then just three seasons later, he recorded a personal best coaching milestone as he won his 300th victory (includes 150 high school wins).

Last year, Miller guided his squad to its 10th consecutive winning season with a 19-9 overall record, 7-5 in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference. Last year's success also yielded a third consecutive (sixth overall) La Salle Invitational title by defeating Mount Saint Mary's in the championship game. Under Miller's guidance, Mary Heller was the fourth La Salle player to be recognized as the tournament's MVP. Jenn Cole received the award twice and both Tracy Sneed and Jennifer Synder were also bestowed the award.

Miller has four 20+ winning seasons to his name, four MAAC regular season crowns, four Philadelphia Big 5 Championships, two NCAA appearances and one NWIT appearance. At the close of the 1989 season, Miller's Explorers were ranked #18 in the AP poll. He has also claimed three Philadelphia Big 5 Coach of the Year honors, three MAAC Coach of the Year honors and a Regional Converse Coach of the Year Award.

In addition to his own accomplishments, Miller has witnessed many individual player accomplishments. Jenn Cole became the all-time leading scorer, Jenny McGowan became the all-time steal leader and Mimi Harris became the all-time assist leader, just to name a few. Miller also stresses the importance of the well-rounded student-athlete. Both Mary Greybush and Cole were named GTE Academic All-Americans.

Before joining the La Salle staff, Miller coached extensively on the high school level. In 1976, Miller was named the head coach of the boys team at Archbishop Ryan High School, after serving as an assistant to "Speedy" Morris at Roman Catholic High School for five years. During his nine-year stint at Ryan, Miller was twice named Catholic League Coach of the Year. From Ryan, Miller moved on to Monsignor Bonner High School for a year, where he closed out his high school coaching career with 150 wins to his credit.

Miller, a 1969 graduate of St. Charles Seminary, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy. He also obtained a Master's degree in Guidance and Counseling from Villanova in 1976. Originally from Reading, PA, Miller and his wife, Emily, now reside in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia with their five year old daughter Katie.

Assistant Coaches

THOMAS LOCHNER

Assistant Coach Tom Lochner returns to the women's basketball team for his eighth season. Lochner has been John Miller's right-hand man in all phases of running the women's program at La Salle, especially in the areas of scouting, recruiting, fundraising, and budget and travel management.

Lochner came to La Salle in 1987, after meeting Miller at the NCAA Women's Final Four. Prior to joining the Explorer staff, Lochner coached girls basketball at his alma mater, Bishop Gibbons High School in Schenectady, New York, from 1981-87. The first two years were spent teaching the junior varsity, followed by four years as the head coach of the varsity. During his head coaching tenure, Bishop Gibbons went 88-13, winning the New York State Championship in the large division with a 26-2 mark in 1986. Lochner's team also claimed three sectional titles and he was honored as New York State Section II Coach of the Year in 1985 and 1986. In addition to his coaching experience on the high school and collegiate level, he also has extensive summer camp work, instructing youths in the fundamentals of basketball.

Lochner, a 1989 graduate of Temple University, earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education/Athletic Administration. He also has an Associate's degree in Marketing from Hudson Valley Community College in Troy, New York.

Tom is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Education at Temple University and living in Willow Grove, PA, with his wife, Beth.

JENNIFER McGOWAN

Jenny McGowan begins her second season as a graduate assistant coach. McGowan had a stellar career as an Explorer. She captained the team as a junior and senior. In her final season, McGowan averaged 10.9 points, 7.9 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 3.3 steals per game. She had a career-high 23 points against Central Connecticut State in the first round of the La Salle Invitational, a career-high 15 rebounds at Chicago State and a career-high nine steals at Loyola.

McGowan became the 11th player in the history of the program to score her 1,000th point. She ended her collegiate career as the all-time steal leader. Not only does she lead the steal category, but she has also earned spots in the Top Ten career leaders in games started and played, field goals and free throws made, free throws attempted, rebounds and assists. She was also only the second player in women's history to record a triple double, the other was her cousin Kelly Greenberg. McGowan was a three-time La Salle Invitational All-Tournament Team Member and a two-time Philadelphia All-Big 5 Second Team selection.

Jenny graduated from La Salle in 1993 with a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and is now pursuing her Master's degree in Human Services.

MARY HELLER

Mary Heller joins the La Salle coaching staff for her first year as a graduate assistant. As a player from 1990-94, Heller was the 12th person in the history of the program to score over 1,000 points. She also grabbed 733 rebounds, stole the ball 186 times, blocked 65 shots and sank 286 free throws. Heller is ranked in the top ten all-time career leader's list in all of these categories. She led the team in rebounding for three consecutive years and led the Explorers in scoring during her senior year as a co-captain.

Heller's career-high 27 points came in the last game of the 93-94 regular season at Evansville and in her junior campaign, she grabbed a career-high 19 rebounds in the victory over Central Connecticut State in the first round of the La Salle Invitational, setting a tournament record. Also as a senior, she was named to two All-Tournament teams and was selected as the La Salle Invitational's Most Valuable Player. For all her accomplishments in her final year, Heller was recognized on the All-MCC and All-Big 5 First Teams.

Mary graduated from La Salle in 1994 with a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science and is currently pursuing her Master's degree in the same field at her alma mater.

1994-95 Outlook

YOUNG, BUT EXPERIENCED

With the core of the successful 1993-94 squad returning this season, La Salle should prove to be a tough competitor. Head coach John Miller has his goals set high for a productive and satisfying season. Miller claims that his goals this season are no different than in previous years. Miller and his Explorers will strive for 20 wins because that seems to be the magic number. According to Miller, "If you achieve 20 wins in a season, everyone always thinks you have a great year." Of course playing a Division I schedule has the ever-luminous thought of possibly going to the NCAA tournament, but Miller feels he really does not have any control over that until the conference championship. However he does feel, if a team is successful enough during the regular season, it may receive an at-large bid, an idea Miller constantly stresses to his players throughout the year. Miller also invokes in his team that they should play their best every single game no matter who the opponent may be.

This year, La Salle will have to do without the talents of graduated seniors Mary Heller and Lisa Auman, who combined for 22.8 points and 10 rebounds per game, but Miller is confident that he has a fine nucleus returning. The Explorers return four starters, a number of key reserves, and a talented trio of incoming freshmen all vying for starting positions. This year's team may be young, but they are experienced. Eight of 10 returning players all received a quality amount of playing time last year and all of them will be making significant contributions to the success of this year's squad. Miller intends to put the best players on the floor regardless of position. In fact, he always downplays the importance of starting. What is more important to him is who finishes the game.

After running the floor from the point guard position last year, tri-captain Allyson Blue (Barnesville, PA) will now return to her natural position of shooting guard this season. Blue sacrificed for the good of the team by playing point, but now sophomore Ann Gallagher (Broomall, PA), who has one full year of experience under her belt, will take the reigns. Gallagher led the team with 114 assists last season and Miller is confident that she will continue to learn, develop and excel at that position. However, freshman Katie Wolfe (Ambler, PA) will definitely be challenging Gallagher for the starting spot. Wolfe, who comes to La Salle as a two-time Northern Division MVP of the Philadelphia Catholic League and was the starting point guard for a very successful Bishop McDevitt team, will certainly receive her share of playing time.

Anyone that is familiar with last year's starting line-up will now ask a relevant question - with Blue making the transition to the two-guard, where does that leave tri-captain Lori Sparling (Carmel, IN)? Probably as a third guard. Miller is certainly not against going with a three-guard offense. In fact, he has done it in the past and has been very successful. Sparling was the third leading scorer last season and will most likely be the main ingredient to La Salle's outside scoring game. Also in her favor is the fact that Sparling is strong enough to play small forward.

The three other players that will also be looking to see time at either the two-guard or small forward positions are sophomores Marnie McBreen (Havertown, PA) and Stephanie Coddens (Detroit, MI) and newcomer Sarah Haynes (New Palestine, IN). What offense John Miller decides to run will determine how these players will contribute. McBreen led the team in three-point field goal percentage, shooting over 40% from that range. She is capable of hitting the outside jumper or taking the ball inside. Coddens has a nice stroke, but is more likely to play small forward rather than guard. However even at the three position, Miller would like Coddens to shoot outside more this year. Haynes joins the team after having a superb high school career. As a senior she averaged over 23 points per game and ended her four-year stint as the school's all-time leading scorer and rebounder.

At the power forward position, Chrissie Donahue (Broomall, PA) returns as La Salle's top scorer and rebounder. Donahue came to La Salle as a highly touted high school player and proved she had no trouble adjusting to the college style. She was the first rookie ever to start and play in all the games as a freshman under John Miller and also led the team in minutes played. Look for Donahue to really step up her game and lead the team both offensively and defensively this season. Freshman Sarah Weiss (Libertyville, IL) is capable of playing all three positions, but at 6-0, will most likely be used underneath. As a high school senior, Weiss scored 438 points and grabbed 295 rebounds. She shattered the school's rebounding record with her career 835 boards. With her versatility, Weiss should see a significant amount of time on the court.

Junior tri-captain Marci Willis (Langhorne, PA) will battle it out with sophomore Margit Rinke (Pine River, MN) for the starting center position. Willis became the starting center seven games into the season last year. After averaging just about 16 minutes a game, Willis ended her sophomore season as La Salle's third leading rebounder. As long as her knees don't give out, Willis will prove to be quite a threat in the paint. At 6-2, Rinke is probably the only true center on the team. She is a hard worker who, without a doubt, was the most improved player on the team last year. Hopefully Rinke will take her game to the next level this season.

Walk-ons Patrice McGovern (Voorhees, NJ) and Tina Wahl (Ambler, PA) both saw limited action last year, but when they did compete, they really gave it their all. McGovern is a guard, while Wahl is a forward. They combined for eight points and six rebounds and each of them averaged a little under 2 minutes a game. They will continue to provide their support to make the other players better.

The schedule itself is both varied and challenging. The Explorers kick off the 1994-95 season at St. Joseph's University in a women's Big 5 doubleheader against Penn. They will then head north to participate in the Harvard Tip-off Tournament which also features Fordham and Boston College. The Explorers will close out the month of December against the three remaining Big 5 teams (Temple, Villanova and St. Joseph's), new conference opponent Cleveland State, and host their 15th annual La Salle Invitational in which their guests this year include Richmond, Morgan State and Boston University.

To begin the new year, the team will migrate south to take on Tampa and South Florida. When La Salle returns home, the remainder of their games will all be against MCC schools. The Explorers will meet Wright State and Xavier at Hayman Hall, then go to Detroit, Notre Dame and Butler. La Salle finishes January at home versus Illinois-Chicago.

Unlike the warm weather trip that began January, the extremely cold weather will start February when the Explorers travel to Wisconsin-Milwaukee and Wisconsin-Green Bay. There is light at the end of the tunnel however, as La Salle then encounters a four-game home stand with Northern Illinois, Loyola-Chicago, Detroit and Notre Dame before the team hits the road to Ohio to finish the regular season at Wright State, Xavier and Cleveland State. This year's MCC tournament will be held at Northern Illinois from March 9-11.

MILLER ON McBREEN: "Marnie did some very nice things as a freshman. She reminds me a lot of Jenny McGowan - diving on the floor for loose balls, being disruptive on defense, etc. In fact, she turned the Penn game around for us. Look for her to be a real contributor this year."

Looking Back At The 1993-94 Season

1993-94 Year In Review

YOUNG SQUAD DOES BETTER THAN EXPECTED

Despite losing four quality players from the 1992-93 team and returning only two seniors and no juniors, head coach John Miller and his Explorers had an exceptional season with another winning record. La Salle finished 19-9 overall and 8-6 in Midwestern Collegiate Conference play.

The Explorers kicked off the year in the first game of a women's Philadelphia Big 5 doubleheader at Villanova. They faced the Penn Quakers and came away with the 65-57 victory. Freshman forward Chrissie Donahue (Broomall, PA) recorded her first double double of her career to lead the team with 17 points and 10 rebounds.

From there it was onto South Orange, New Jersey, to participate in the Mayfair Farms Classic at Seton Hall. The Explorers defeated Boston University in the first round, but fell to the host team in the title game. Donahue and senior center Mary Heller (Uniondale, PA) were both named to the All-Tournament Team.

Up next came the three remaining Big 5 schools and Drexel. La Salle earned wins on the road at Temple and Drexel, but then returned home to Hayman Hall to split matches with St. Joseph's and Villanova. In the Villanova game, Allyson Blue (Barnesville, PA) led all scorers with a season-high 16 points, including a perfect 4-4 from field and 8-8 from the foul line. The Explorers ended their Big 5 play with a 3-1 record, their only loss coming at the hands of the Hawks.

After Christmas, the Explorers hosted their 14th Annual La Salle Invitational which featured Morehead State, Mount Saint Mary's and Towson State. La Salle claimed their third straight title, sixth overall, by defeating Towson State 61-57 on the first day and Mount Saint Mary's 69-50 in the championship game. Donahue and Heller were selected to the All-Tournament Team with Heller garnering Most Valuable Player honors.

La Salle then hosted the Eagles of American University and started the new year right with their 81-52 win. Freshman Margit Rinke (Pine River, MN) had her best outing of the year with her season-high and team-leading 16 points and six rebounds.

Then the Explorers headed south to compete in the Holiday Inn/UNC-Wilmington Beach Blast Tournament. La Salle lost in the opening round to Georgia Southern, but came back to win over the Seahawks of UNCW in the consolation game. Heller was named to her third All-Tournament Team.

MCC play began at the Philadelphia Civic Center on January 12th, as the Explorers defeated the visiting Ramblers of Loyola-Chicago 64-61. Notre Dame invaded Hayman Hall that same week and walked away with the easy 92-73 victory. This was the first time in 63 consecutive games and the only time this season that the Explorers gave up more than 90 points.

Donahue led the way with 20 points and nine rebounds as the Explorers picked up a road win at Detroit Mercy. From there it was onto Cincinnati, where La Salle suffered an 82-60 loss to the Xavier Musketeers.

The Explorers were at home for the next five of six games. La Salle went 2-0 in the last week of January with wins over Evansville and Butler and continued its win streak when they pulled out the overtime victory at Delaware and defeated George Mason at home. The Explorers' win streak quickly came to a halt when Xavier and Detroit Mercy visited Hayman Hall. Xavier's Carol Madsen dropped a career-high 46 points, the most points allowed to an individual player this year, to lead the Musketeers to the 85-76 victory. Then the Titans earned the 65-57 decision despite Lisa Auman's (Birdsboro, PA) season-high 16 points, including 4-8 from three-point range.

La Salle's last four regular season games were on the road. At Notre Dame, La Salle claimed the 85-75 win behind Lori Sparling's (Carmel, IN) explosive career-high 25 points, but in Chicago, the Explorers ran into a definite home court advantage and lost to the Ramblers 80-66.

Throughout the game at Butler, tension was high at Hinkle Fieldhouse as the Explorers faced the Bulldogs, but it was back-up point guard Ann Gallagher (Broomall, PA) who emerged as the heroine. Gallagher hit a three-point basket at the buzzer to send the game into overtime and eventually allow the Explorers to celebrate the fruits of their labor as they went on to win 87-85. Donahue should not be overlooked, as she scored a career-high 25 points, including 15-16 from the charity stripe.

In Evansville, La Salle struggled to get their offense going in the first half, but for the last 20 minutes they were in complete sync and recorded the 90-73 victory with the help of Heller's career-high 27 points.

The MCC Championship was held at Hinkle Fieldhouse in Indianapolis, Indiana, a place that was familiar to the Explorers after being there just one week previous. In the first round, La Salle drew the home team. The Explorers proved the cliché, "Third time a charm," to be right on target, as they defeated Butler 83-70 to advance to the semi's and face the number one seeded Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. La Salle and Notre Dame had split games during the regular season, but the Irish proved to be too hungry for the title that is, and defeated the Explorers 79-55.

Individually, Heller led La Salle in scoring (15.1 ppg), rebounding (7.7 rpg), steals (3.1 spg) and blocks (.5) and claimed numerous honors throughout the year. Donahue was a consistent second on the team with 13 points and 6.8 rebounds per game and was also the first rookie to ever start and play in all the games. She was the most accurate Explorer from the line, hitting 121-140 free throws. For her final 86.4%, she was ranked ninth in the nation. Gallagher led the team in assists with 4.1 per game. In three games this year, she had a season-high seven assists.

After moving from power to shooting forward last year, Auman worked diligently to perfect her outside game. It paid off, as she nailed 36 three-pointers to lead the team in that category. Sparling came on strong in the latter part of the season, scoring in double digits in 11 of the last 17 games. In conference games alone, she averaged 12.3 points per game.

Blue controlled the floor from the point. She showed that the year off, after redshirting last season due to a knee injury, did not impede her performance. Blue was able to score, rebound, assist and steal just as effectively as she did when she was a freshman. La Salle's starting center, Marci Willis (Langhorne, PA), proved to herself, the team, and opponents that she has the strength and confidence to bang the boards with the best of them. Willis ended the season as La Salle's third leading rebounder with 122 boards.

Marnie McBreen (Havertown, PA) will be able to fill the shoes of Auman quite nicely. In many a tight situation, she had the confidence to make the big shot. McBreen had the best three-point percentage on the team, as she canned 18-42 shots from beyond the arc. She had a perfect game from "treyl-land" at Butler when she hit all three. McBreen was also perfect in six other games from long range.

Rinke could be characterized as this year's most improved player. At the onset of the season, Rinke averaged less than eight minutes a game, but after the AU game, she began to average over 12 minutes per game. With one year under her belt, Rinke will certainly be someone to contend with both offensively and defensively next season.

Stephanie Coddens (Grosse Pointe, MI) had the typical freshman year, as she saw limited action in 25 games this year. However, Coddens was a dependable player who came off the bench and did what John Miller needed her to do, whether it was to pick a steal, dish out an assist, grab a rebound or just play good heads-up defense. She will definitely be a player to watch for over the next three years.

Finally, walk-ons Patrice McGovern (Voorhees, NJ) and Tina Wahl (Ambler, PA) have earned the distinct honor of this year's two "pick-me-ups". Despite not getting much playing time, these two players always had smiles on their faces and more times than not, made the whole team laugh just by laughing themselves. John Miller was overheard as saying, "I would not trade Patrice or Tina for anything."

Looking ahead to next year, Miller has his main cast of characters back. The Explorers will return four starters and some very key reserves and he will also add some very talented incoming freshman. However, we cannot forget the contributions that both Heller and Auman have made to the team over the past four years.

MCC Embarks On Its 16th Year

As it approaches its 16th anniversary in 1994-95, the Midwestern Collegiate Conference is different than it has ever been. It is also very much the same. After experiencing membership realignment and refocusing its goals, the MCC is positioned to build upon an established foundation toward a dynamic future.

A new logo symbolizing the MCC's revitalization has been unveiled and positive energy abounds. The conference has doubled in size to 12 schools and, for the first time, the membership now includes both public and private universities. The result has been an affiliation of institutions with similar athletics goals that provides stability and major market exposure.

THE "NEW MCC"

Butler University
Northern Illinois University
Cleveland State University
University of Notre Dame
University of Detroit Mercy
University of Wisconsin-Green Bay
University of Illinois at Chicago
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
La Salle University
Wright State University
Loyola University Chicago
Xavier University

MCC Markets now include nearly 13 million television households and encompass roughly 13 percent of the nation's television audience. The member institutions are generally located in major metropolitan areas and benefit from the business, cultural, educational and entertainment resources available to the university community.

The "new" MCC is anchored in a solid tradition that began in 1979. Originally formed as a men's sports league, the conference added women's athletics in 1986-87. League members continue to advocate competitive athletics as a valuable experience and an integral part of the education process which is the mission of higher education.

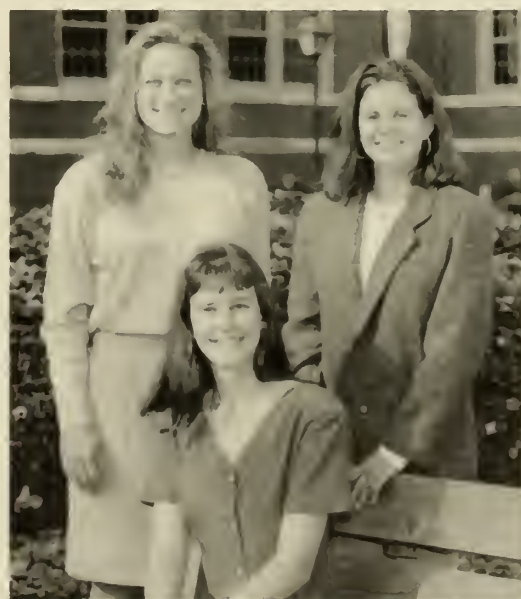

Each institution is committed to fielding a broad-based NCAA Division I athletics program that develops physical fitness, academic development and moral character in its student-athletes. Among the MCC's established operating principles are efforts to enhance the student-athlete experience and maintain integrity, gender equity, academic excellence and fiscal responsibility.

Best known for its basketball success, the MCC offers a total of 16 different championship sports (eight men's and eight women's) and enjoys NCAA automatic qualification or play-in access in baseball, men's basketball, women's basketball, men's soccer, softball and women's volleyball. The conference and its members have established ambitious goals for these "target priority" programs and continue to pursue national prominence in each. The MCC has also identified specific benchmarks for the continuation of its national basketball success and a position as one of the nation's Top 10 Division I athletics conferences.

The MCC moved its offices to Indianapolis in 1985, where the league headquarters has contributed to the city's image as the "Amateur Sports Capital of the World". In addition to many conference championships held in the city, the MCC and Butler University have co-hosted a number of high-profile NCAA events.

Among the most prominent is the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Championship. The Final Four highlighted Indianapolis in 1980 and 1991, while the city hosted first and second-round action in 1987, 1989, 1990 and 1993. The tournament will be back to the Hoosier Dome in 1996 for the first and second rounds and the Final Four spotlight will return in both 1997 and 2000.

Commissioner Jon LeCrone, the league's third full-time chief executive, assumed the leadership baton in June 1992 and heads a six-person staff. Dr. Claire Van Ummersen, the president at Cleveland State University, was named MCC president in May, while CSU Athletics Director John Konstantinos chairs the conference's Executive Committee.
